Literacy Testing

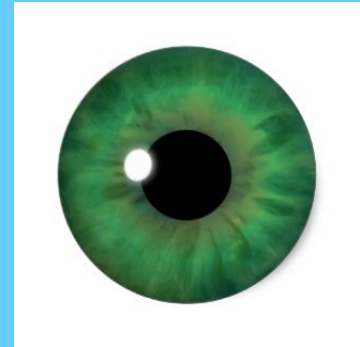

Thank you for partnering with us to make literacy testing successful! We will test this Friday, 1/12, and again one last time at the end of the year to see the wonderful growth made in third grade!

Cow Eyeball Dissection

Many students are excited and have been asking about when we will be dissecting the cow eyeballs this year. This isn't happening until May, so hang in there! We will be needing parent volunteers, so you have time to decide if that is something you would like to do!

Weather Unit

We are having a meteorologist visit during the month of February to help us learn about our next science unit, weather and climate. Your child won't want to miss this morning! More information with specific dates will be coming soon.
